

Sat Paul Mittal School has been honoured with the Assocham National Education Excellence Award, 2017 for “Best Use of Innovation in Teaching Pedagogy”. This commendable achievement is a testimony to the fantastic prowess in innovation and creativity which the school has achieved. Over the past thirteen years the school has evolved into an institution of excellence incorporating the best in school education. From the world class infrastructure to excellent pedagogic practices, the school has earned an enviable reputation for itself in the Punjab region.

This recognition from a leading organisation like ASSOCHAM is a fitting tribute to the visionary leadership of Mrs Bhupinder Gogia, the Principal of the School and to the School's dedicated and committed team of teachers. For a school that focuses on holistic development of children in an inclusive environment, this accolade will surely inspire it to set new benchmarks of excellence in the years ahead. The Award ceremony was graced by Hon'ble Union HRD Minister Shri Prakash Javadekar and other reputed dignitaries. . The school is committed to the mission of fostering excellence in a collaborative learning environment that supports every child. It was indeed a proud moment for the school.
