

Aayaan Aggarwal, a young environmental activist delivered a Tedx Talk at NMIMS Shirpur

#Yet another feather in Aayaan's cap# It is a matter of great pride that Aayaan Aggarwal, a young environmental activist of Sat Paul Mittal School has delivered a TEDx talk on 2nd February, 2020 at NMIMS Shirpur. He motivated and encouraged all with his inspiring words on the significant crusade against the use of plastic. He stressed that Plastic is the worst substance possible for the environment. He reiterated that the problem of environmental pollution has never been so important but now-a-days, lot of serious issues are being faced due to this. At an age when most children are lost in fun-filled activities, Aayaan, an environmental activist, a Grade III child of Sat Paul Mittal School has become an icon for others.

TEDxNMIMSShirpur started with a theme 'Change for Betterment' and the audience included the students and the Faculty members. TEDx, is an organization that promotes "ideas worth sharing". The mission of this organization is to commemorate outstanding and exceptional work presented by the bright minds and providing them a platform to inspire further.

It is indeed a proud moment that Aayaan has become the youngest Tedx speaker in the world. He was appreciated, applauded and awarded for the gracious presence as a speaker and contributing ideas worth spreading at the event. It is noteworthy that Aayaan was also invited to speak on the topic 'Harmful Effects of Plastic' by NDTV and Doordarshan TV Channels. Aayaan wants that everyone should take up his cause and make the country and world single use plastic- FREE.
