

Sat Paul Mittal School combats COVID-19 with Remote Learning expectations of the students.

Sat Paul Mittal School strives to find better ways of providing rich educational experiences to the students which are value adding. Amid the uncertainty and fear that the pandemic has brought, Sat Paul Mittal School has transitioned to 'Remote Learning Work Plan' to minimize the disruption to children's learning. Leveraging the power of digital technology, the teachers have designed lesson modules to create an enriching resource pool in sync with the learning

The 'Remote Learning Work Plan' offers a fresh perspective on learning methodologies emphasizing on learner interaction, assessment and immediate feedback. Students can work with their teachers to continue the teaching-learning process from home during this period through various links which have been sent through the ERP. This engaging experience will help the students to be independent learners which is one of the key future ready skills.
