

Online Student-Led Clubs Launched by Sat Paul Mittal School

Under the Student Empowerment Program initiated by Sat Paul Mittal School, Ludhiana, various student-led clubs were launched on November 7, 2020. These online clubs not only nurture the leadership qualities of the youngsters but also add a feather to their caps as they boldly stepped forward with various innovative ideas and activities to encourage their peers while quenching the lockdown induced all pervasive boredom.

These Clubs, run by middle-school students under the mentorship of teachers, have been designed to engage students in activities of their chosen field of interest. However, carefully chosen activities of these clubs are not just meant to keep kids entertained but also develop certain skillsets necessary for their success later in life. These clubs include, Bookeria: Book Club, The Ziarist: Research and journalism, Club Epicodus for Coding Club, Rhythms & Expressions for Semi-Classic Dance, Inking Thought: Doodling Club, Aesthetic Artistry: Art Club, Classy Cuisine: Cooking Club and YoukanevenLearn as Steam and ICT Club

One of its own kind in the city, these online Clubs have been welcomed with great enthusiasm by students and parents alike. Cooped inside their homes for last many months due to pandemic, children were excited to interact with their friends and classmates outside the classroom setting. Even as the process of reopening of schools has started with high school students returning to classrooms, this commendable step of Sat Paul Mittal School to engage students still stuck at home and ensure their wellbeing has been hailed by the community.
